December 10, 1958.

Dear Mrs and Mr Saizidain, as Barbara very often recalls your visit in her nursery school, we are speaking very often of you.

Barbara speaks about you as about the nice gentleman and the lady in the beautiful dressing-gown, and she doesn't want to hear any explanation about the dress. When it is a dress, then it is a ball dress and she is unable to understand why did you go to a ball in the morning.

Just now she caught a flu and I got it from her, so that we were both for rather a long time in bed. Now it is better and we are preparing everything for Christmas.

How did you enjoy your sojourn in the U.S.?
I hope that you are now back at home and that this letter will find you.

As I am not sure if you got my letter to America, please accept once more my very warmest thanks for the nice scarf and brooch. I like it ~~so~~ very much and I wear it on all possible occasions. Every where it arouses great admiration.

I don't know if you are in your country accustomed to celebrate Christmas. To care you are, let me please wish to you and your whole family merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

With best wishes

yours truly

Nora.
